

11th International Vasculitis and ANCA Workshop

October 2003

A Vasculitis and ANCA Workshop will be held in Prague (Czech Republic), October 3-5, 2003. The workshop is co-organized by the Czech Society of Nephrology and is held under the auspices of the 1st and 2nd Medical Faculty of Charles University in Prague. The main topics of the workshop will be the etiology and pathogenesis of vasculitis, the current place of antineutrophil cytoplasmic antibodies (ANCA) in the diagnostics and monitoring of disease activity and clinical studies in vasculitis. A postgraduate course on vasculitis will be organized on October 5, 2003. For further information see www.anca2003.org.

Jiřina Bartůňková
Institute of Immunology, Praha